Spirituality within the Curriculum

Religious Education

Spirituality weaves through every aspect of life at St. Aidan's, permeating our vision, culture, and daily practices. Our pupils have enquiring minds and want to learn about themselves, others and the world.

Through our ambitious and broad curriculum, children have opportunities to ignite their interests and talents. Rich spiritual opportunities exist across the religious education curriculum for all children at every age.

Spirituality is intentionally cultivated through Religious Education as our children explore diverse belief systems, moral values, and cultural traditions. RE provides a platform for children to inquire, reflect, and engage with the fundamental questions of existence, purpose, and the nature of human connections. Through the study of religious texts, rituals, and ethical teachings, our children develop an understanding of different worldviews, fostering tolerance and respect for diverse perspectives.

RE encourages self-reflection and the exploration of personal values, contributing to the spiritual growth of young learners. The subject promotes an environment where our children can tackle questions about meaning, morality, and the greater aspects of life, cultivating a foundation for empathy, understanding, and open-mindedness that extends beyond the classroom.
